Sayantant Kushari-Sagnik Roy win Mall of the Millenium Pairs with a commanding performance

Sayantant Kushari-Sagnik Roy lifted the Mall of the Millennium cup with a masterful performance in the finals. On Wednesday, they had topped the second elimination and earned a decent carryover score of 45.89, which was worth about two tops in a field of 26 Pairs with 24 as the top score for a board. Today, they won the final with a 61.17% stage score. No other pair crossed 60%. Thus, they would have won the finals even without the carry over. Their score in the final stage was 734 MPs, and their overall score was 779.89.

Joyrup Mullick – Pranab Roy claimed the runner-up spot with a 57.42% (689 MP) stage performance (717.84 overall score), more than 70 MPs behind the leaders. Third place went to the experienced duo Sandip Dutta – Gopinath Manna, finishing with 673.60 (56.13%), 689.08 overall score. Their consistency across the long 50-board final ensured they stayed securely in the podium bracket. Bhaskar Sarkar – Sukanta Das finished fourth with the overall score of 681.69 MPs, and Raju Tolani- K R Venkataraman were fifth with 674.34 MPs.

An overview of the field

The Mall of the Millennium Cup, formerly known as the Holkar Trophy, stands as the premier Match-Points event on the Bridge Federation of India's annual calendar. This year's final brings together 26 exceptionally strong pairs, each with a distinct style and a formidable track record, making the battle for the title especially intense.

Sandeep Thakral–Subhash Gupta enter the final playing their crisp, Precision-inspired strong-club system, infused with DEMICOMA bidding concepts—an approach that rewards accurate judgment and disciplined structure.

Adding creative contrast, Rajendra Gokhale–Sandeep N. Karmarkar bring the Camel System, a coded structure developed by Gokhale himself. Recently legalized under BFI's New Systems Policy, the Camel System has deep logic and unconventional strengths according to its creator—making this pair one of the most intellectually distinctive in the draw.

Fresh from the high-pressure environment of top-tier team events, Rajeshwar Tewari–Shubham Acharya combine once again after representing Formidables in the RUIA Gold where they finished runners-up. Their dynamic, energetic style could produce big boards in match-point formats.

The much-respected duo of Sumit Mukherjee–Debabrata Majumder, long-time teammates on the Indian Railways, bring years of international experience and partnership maturity. Few pairs in the field can match their blend of experience and board-by-board resilience.

Also adding weight to the field are Binod Shaw–Sanjit Dey, part of India's Open Team at the 2024 World Championships. And these are just a few of the heavyweights—many other strong, ambitious, and battle-tested players fill the roster. With such depth, there are no easy rounds, and every board has the potential to swing the leaderboard.

As play begins, the atmosphere carries a mix of anticipation and respect. This is a field where experience meets innovation, where systems collide, and where every overtrick counts. The stage is set for a gripping contest worthy of the event's rich legacy.

Position after 10 boards

After 10 Boards of the Mall of the Millennium Cup Final

With 10 of the 50 boards completed in the Mall of the Millennium Cup Final, the leaderboard has begun to take shape, and early momentum is proving valuable.

Sandip Dutta – Gopinath Manna have surged into the lead with an impressive 174 match-points, delivering a strong, consistent start. Close behind, the experienced duo Vijay Phatarphekar – R. Sridharan hold second place on 159, staying firmly in contention.

Not far back are Joyrup Mullick – Pranab Roy, who sit third with 154, while the sharp and structured pairing of Sandeep Thakral – Subhash Gupta occupy fourth on 149, well within striking distance.

The next cluster is tightly packed:

- Sourav Mukherjee – Partha Pratim Pal at 146,
- Sumit Mukherjee – Debabrata Majumder at 142,
- Arun M. Bapat – Ajay P. Khare at 138, and
- Rajeshwar Tewari – Shubham Acharya at 136.

With only 20% of the boards played, these early numbers are merely indicators—but the tone is set. The field is strong, the margins are slim, and every overtrick will matter as the remaining 40 boards unfold.

Sandip Dutta – Gopinath Manna score a clean top on Board two by bidding and making 3Nt. Most other North-South players allowed East-West to win the auction in a Heart part-score.

3Nt is cold. The ♥Ten contributes a lot to the percentage of success and the Club King is well placed. Still, in a Pairs game, the adage 'nothing risked, nothing gained' holds firmly true.

Mid-Final Standings After 26 Boards

At the halfway mark of the Mall of the Millennium Cup final, the leaderboard is still in flux. With 24 boards still to come, the field remains tightly bunched and very much alive.

Joyrup Mullick – Pranab Roy have taken over the lead with a composed and steady performance, standing at 410.26.

In second place, the youthful and energetic pair Sayantan Kushari – Sagnik Roy continue to impress, currently on 397.72, bolstered by a strong carryover that keeps them well within striking distance.

Just a whisker behind are the veterans from Mumbai - Arun M. Bapat – Ajay P. Khare, sitting third at 395.92, maintaining remarkable steadiness across the boards and keeping the leaders firmly in sight.

A cluster of seasoned contenders follow:

- Sumit Mukherjee – Debabrata Majumder at 393.33,
- Vijay Phatarrphekar – R. Sridharan at 373.27,
- Sourav Mukherjee – Partha Pratim Pal at 359.43,
- Rajeshwar Tewari – Shubham Acharya at 358.86,
- Sandip Dutta – Gopinath Manna at 358.48.

The margins from sixth to 8th are razor-thin—a single strong round can move a pair up several places.

With a little less than half the boards still to be played, experience, stamina, and partnership rhythm will now begin to matter even more. The leaders are under pressure, the chasers are well within range, and the final stretch promises to be fiercely contested.

Position after 38 Boards

With just twelve boards left in the Mall of the Millennium Cup final, Sayantan Kushari – Sagnik Roy have surged into the lead, standing at 587.22, powered by a strong carryover and a superb Stage score of 541.33. Their consistency across the middle phase of the final has made them the pair to catch.

Former leaders Joyrup Mullick – Pranab Roy are still firmly in the hunt at 549.17. Their rhythm dipped slightly in this segment, but they remain a major threat in the final sprint. In third place, the experienced duo Sumit Mukherjee – Debabrata Majumder have climbed steadily to 541.13, staying well within striking distance. Their progress over the last two rounds suggests they may yet mount a late challenge. Arun M. Bapat – Ajay P. Khare sit fourth at 523.37, maintaining the solid form that has kept them near the top throughout the day.

Rounding out the top five are Binod Kumar Shaw – Sanjit Dey on 512.12, the Indian Open team pair beginning to show their trademark pressure play as the boards get sharper.

The chasing pack is tightly clustered:

- Samir Basak – Sabyasachi Sadhukhan at 511.35,
- Vijay Phatarrphekar – R. Sridharan at 507.42,

- Sandip Dutta – Gopinath Manna at 507.33,
- Kamal Mukherjee – Mrinal Mukherjee at 501.69,
- Rajeshwar Tewari – Shubham Acharya at 499.49.

With less than a top separating 6th through 10th, the fight for the podium—and even the title—remains completely open. The final dozen boards promise fireworks.

Sayantan Kushari-Sagnik Roy won the Mall of the Millennium trophy maintaining their healthy lead right till the end.
